Golf Report for the week ending 11/9/2022

Pat Pickering and Julie McRae were the winners of Mondays ladies vet's golf.

Paul Johnson took out Tuesday's vets with 39 points. Ross Tutt continued his good form to run 2nd with 37. Kevin Campbell, 36, and Shaun O'Brien, 34, were next. Nearest the pins went to Gordon Dean, Paul Johnson and David Hawker while Steve Kent won the putting. Peter Lloyd picked up the prize for the Super Vets.

Wednesday's ladies' stroke was won by Wendy Alexander with a great nett 67. Trudy Tonkin was next with 69 and she was followed by Jan Frater with 72.

Thursdays 12-hole comp was a very close affair with 5 players in a count back for the winning prize with 27 points. Barry Croft was the eventual winner with Jack Hepi and Ross Tutt taking 2nd and 3rd. Des Douglass won the nearest the pin and Ken Austin the putting.

Friday was another washout for the ladies.

Jeremy Tickle was the winner of the postponed September Sutton Insurance Brokers Monthly Mug on Saturday. He finished with an excellent nett 66. Grade winners were A Grade – Rowan Butler, 68, B Grade – Ashley Walters, 67, C Grade – Ross Tutt, 70, and D Grade - Allen Bujack, 71. Others to pick up prizes were Matt Warrell, 68, Anthony Hyde and Steve Clover, 69, and Nick Glover and Bruce Garrett, 70.

The ladies stableford was won by Lou Cathie with 36 points.

Sunday's medley stableford was won by Michael Williams with a standout 40 points. Next best was Matt Sparke with 32.

The juniors also had another successful day on Sunday and will meet again in a fortnight.

The Marquart Jug is down to the last 8 after some very close matches in the last round. In an impressive performance Rowan Butler took 20 holes on his own to account for Matt Warrell and Brian Fox. Gary Hadland and Steve Kent went 19 holes before they won against Mal Dickson and Mick Tanner.

The next round of the Jug and the Mills Plate must be completed by October 16.
