A few new incentives are on offer for a while. There are $50 lucky draws for Saturday and Sunday . Saturday sponsored by Ben Butler from aap Finance Brokers and Sunday sponsored by Bi-Rite Appliances.

For the Tradies Comp - players will be awarded points for playing. They will also get bonus points depending on where they finish on the day. The top player will get the most points, the 2nd player gets the next most points, etc. This comp will run until March 19. The following week, March 26, the top 10 players (the 10 with the most points for the 21 weeks) will play a shoot out with one player, the lowest scorer, dropping off after each hole. There will be a putt off in the case of equal scores.

There will also be 2 lucky draws for meat trays on Fridays.

Steve Glover took out Tuesday's Vets Comp with 37 points in what proved to be a tough day on the course. He was followed by Nick Glover with 36 points and Rowan Butler, 34 points. Next were Dave Ryan, 32, and Peter Lane, 31.

The ladies played a 3-person scramble on Wednesday. Lyn O'Brien, Casey Trevithick & Lynne Lamrock combined for the win the 'House to Home' sponsored prizes with a score of 69.2. Teena Myler, Trudi Tonkin and Sue Urquhart were next with 69.3.

Steve Kent had his first win since coming back to take out Thursday's 12-hole comp with 28 points. Gary Lamrock was next with 27 and Rod Loy, 23, took 3rd in a countback. Des Douglas won the putting and Rod Jones the nearest the pin.

The ladies 9-hole comp on Friday was won by Alison Lane. She finished with 18 points, 1 ahead of Bronwyn Thorley and Julie McRae.

Mitchell Wallwork won Friday's 9-hole Scott Mackenzie Lawyers Tradies Comp with 26 points. The lucky draws for the Sapphire City meat trays were won by Matt O'Reilly and Beau Payne.

The men played a super-six stableford comp on Saturday. The 6 holes that scored were 2, 5, 8, 11,16 and 18. Phil Thomas won the super six comp in a countback with Jack Solomon. Each finished with 13 points. 7 players, Shane Fletcher, Rod Jones, Harry Edmonds, Andrew Kerr, Ashley Walters Heath Cox and Beau Payne finished with 12 points.

Peter Wallace was drawn in Saturday's aap Finance Brokers Lucky Draw but didn't play. That prize jackpots again next week.

Sunday's medley stableford was washed out.
